Wild West

Q. Where can I get some colored pictures of cowboys and Indians to send to a little boy in England? I have tried around here, but haven't had any luck. M. P. W., Long Beach.

A. The Southwest Museum, 234 Museum Drive, Los Angeles, has a few post cards of American Indians and a number of books on Indians and Indian lore. The National Cowboy Hall of Fame Gift Shop, 1700 N. E. 63rd St., Oklahoma City, Okla. 73111, also has pictures and books on cowboys and Indians. Mrs. Marjorie Phelan, gift shop manager, said if you will send her some information about the youngster and the kind of material you would like to send him she will do her best to supply you.

Dirty Trick

Q. This past weekend, we were kicked out of one of our favorite dirt-motorcycle riding places, the Bixby Slough area near Anaheim and Gaffey Streets. We were told that they were going to build a park there, and that motorcycles were no longer allowed—and, I'm sure, many other enthusiasts of this fast-growing sport—would like to know why we can't use this area until construction begins, what is being done to provide our sport with riding areas, and who can we write or petition about these things? J. W. W., San Pedro.

GRAFFITI by Leary

CHICK WHO GETS MINK FROM WOLF IS FOX

A. Numerous dust and noise complaints from nearby residents have forced closure of this area to motorcyclists, according to Alonso Carmichael, planning officer for the Los Angeles City Department of Recreation and Parks, the agency responsible for this regional park. Plans for the new park—that do not provide for motorcycle trails—have already been completed. Construction contracts, however, have not yet been let, and you may still petition the Los Angeles City Board of Recreation and Park Commissioners for a change in the park's plan. The planning officer didn't see much likelihood that this change would be granted, but you may make an appointment to appear before the board by calling MA 4-5211, Ext. 1508. Carmichael also said that his office has been directed to appoint a committee to seek potential off-road motorcycle riding areas. However, he wasn't sure when the committee would be appointed, nor when any riding sites would be opened by the department.

Fish on the Fin

Q. Do you know of any place where I could buy small game fish live? I'd like to stock a private pool, and getting fish from government agencies involves too much red tape. Can you find a private fish dealer? G. B., Long Beach.

A. You can buy live catfish by the pound from St. Anthony's, at 68th Street and Lincoln Avenue in Mecca, Calif. A spokesman said the company fills orders of all sizes on the premises but ships only orders for more than $1,000. The fish sell for 80 cents per pound. Live trout are available for the same price at Whitewater Trout Farm, Whitewater, Calif. Both companies also have fish already prepared for eating.

Deposit Withdrawal

Q. In June my daughter sent a $30 deposit to the Motel 6 of Waikiki for room reservations for herself and her three children. Due to emergency surgery in July, she had to cancel her reservation and asked that her deposit be refunded. She now is in Saigon, and still has received no refund. Can ACTION LINE help? Mrs. M. D., Seal Beach.

A. ACTION LINE contacted Barbara Boots, customer relations representative for Motel 6 headquarters in Santa Barbara, who checked with the Motel 6 in Waikiki. The Waikiki office claims your daughter failed to cancel her reservation, and the room was held for her all night. As a result, they are unable to refund her deposit.

HOW TO USE ACTION LINE

When calling or writing with a problem or question, give your name, address and telephone number—not for publication, as only readers' initials are used in the column—but to help ACTION LINE help you. Include pertinent information but please don't send original documents or pictures that you want returned.

The volume of mail makes it impossible to answer or acknowledge every question. Each question, however, is carefully read and considered. Because of the delay in transcribing telephone messages recorded on ACTION LINE's special number, 432-3451, mail requests often receive prompter attention than phone calls.

Persons seeking information contained in past ACTION LINE items may visit the newspapers' library, Room 208, The Independent, Press-Telegram Building, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays for help. Phone calls to ACTION LINE through the regular Independent, Press-Telegram switchboard will not be put through.

$4.5-BILLION DEFENSE BUDGET SAVINGS

300,000-Man Military Cut Planned

By WILLIAM BEECHER

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department has decided to cut the armed forces by 200,000 to 300,000 men in the next budget year, starting July 1, according to ranking Pentagon officials. The actual number will depend on the pace of troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

This manpower reduction, more than anything else, officials say, will enable the Administration to present Congress next month with a defense budget request of $72.5 billion, down $4.5 billion from the current budget's expected spending level.

Officials say the relatively austere budget reflects Administration determination to fight inflationary pressures and to allocate a greater share of total federal spending to domestic programs.

In mid-October, following a nine month government-wide policy review, the White House ordered the Pentagon to keep the fiscal 1971 budget between $71 billion and $73 billion. This is in line with a new five year plan aimed at a less ambitious global strategy and commensurately lower military spending over that period.

The manpower reduction will be from a base of about 3,190,000 men that the Pentagon expects to have in the armed forces at the start of the next fiscal year; that level itself reflects a planned reduction of 265,000 in the current budget year.

Officials said that President Nixon insisted on tightening the pace of Vietnam withdrawals with its resulting cuts in the size of the services as a variable.

A 300,000-man force

reduction would save approximately $4.5 billion a year, they estimated.

The manpower savings will enable the armed forces to develop and buy limited quantities of new

Tight Security Lid on Agnew Asia Trip

HONOLULU (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew arrived in Hawaii Friday amid tight security on his way to the Far East where he hopes "to get a reaction to the Nixon doctrine" in foreign policy during a 37,000-mile journey.

"I hope it will be a successful and productive trip to the Asian nations," the vice president told a crowd of about 50 persons. "This is a wonderfully auspicious way to begin this journey," he said.

Agnew was greeted at Hickam Air Force Base by Gov. John A. Burns and Adm. John S. McCain, commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific.

Honolulu Mayor Frank F. Fasi and U.S. Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, also met the vice president.

Newsmen were not allowed to ask Agnew questions.

After watching a hula troupe perform and shaking hands with several well-wishers, Agnew left the air base in a white car.

The place where he and his wife would stay overnight was kept secret.

HIGHWAY DEATHS BELOW FORECAST

United Press International

The death toll on the nation's highways mounted steadily Friday, but the rise was so slow the National Safety Council said the Christmas holiday weekend count may fall below pre-holiday expectations.

"The way it looks now we may come well under our estimate of 800 to 920 traffic deaths," a safety council spokesman said.

A United Press International count at midnight showed 315 persons had been killed in traffic accidents since the holiday period started at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

California and Texas each counted 27 traffic fatalities.

New York had 20, Florida 19, Georgia 16, and North Carolina and Pennsylvania each had 14.

chance the plane was to have landed in Atlanta to refuel. A decision was made later to bypass Atlanta and fly straight to Havana.

The plane was 76 miles north of New York City when Paulsen radioed asking for clearance to Havana.

The flight had been scheduled to arrive at O'Hare Field in Chicago at 9:25 p.m. There were 23 passengers and a crew of five, the FAA said.

INTERNATIONAL*12 Yanks, 200 Reds
'Cease-Fire' Victims

SAIGON. Saturday — An unofficial count indicated today that at least 12 Americans and more than 200 enemy were killed during the enemy's unilateral three-day Christmas cease-fire. The Viet Cong truce ended at 1 a.m. this morning, but there were no immediate reports of an upsurge in battlefield activity. The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands officially ignored the 72-hour enemy truce, but said they ceased all their own combat operations for a 24-hour period over Christmas itself. No official count was kept of the number of military incidents during the longer enemy stand-down because, as one U.S. spokesman put it: "We didn't keep track of it. That's their so-called cease-fire, not ours." The allied commands said Friday night they have decided to observe another 24-hour cease-fire over New Year's despite an official count of 111 enemy violations of the Christmas truce.

Israeli Jets Pound Arabs

TEL AVIV — Israeli planes attacked Egyptian targets around Suez City for three hours Friday and struck Arab troop positions inside Jordan. Israeli mortars also shelled Lebanon and Jordan in retaliation for Arab guerrilla rocket strikes into Israel. The air attack on Egyptian artillery was the second air raid against Egyptian targets in two days. A Tel Aviv spokesman said all Israeli aircraft returned safely to base from the attack. Other Israeli aircraft flew over the Jordan River and struck at Jordanian and Iraqi troop positions.

2,400 Yanks Withdrawn

BANGKOK — A total of 2,400 American servicemen have been withdrawn from Thailand since Sept. 30 when President Nixon announced plans to lower the force in this country by 6,000, the U.S. Embassy reported Friday. There were 45,600 American military personnel in Thailand as of Dec. 15. All 6,000 to be withdrawn would be sent home "as expeditiously as possible consistent with operational requirements related to the Vietnam conflict."

1st Division in Next Pullout

SAIGON — The U.S. 1st Infantry Division will be included in the next pullout and its duty of guarding the northern approaches to Saigon probably will go to a South Vietnamese division that has shown steady improvement, U.S. sources said Friday. The division was the first U.S. Army unit to enter the war July 12, 1965. Its pullout under the President's third round cutback of 50,000 troops would be logical. This round is to be completed by April 15. The 1st Division has been operating 50 miles north of Saigon covering Binh Duong Province.

'Angel' Downed in Irish Blast

DUBLIN — A time bomb blew an angel off the monument to Irish liberator Daniel O'Connell Friday and smashed bank and shop windows as far as a mile away, police said. The predawn blast in Dublin's O'Connell Street injured no one, police said. Police said they suspect the blast was the work of the Ulster Volunteer Force, an illegal Protestant counterpart to southern Ireland's banned Irish Republican Army.

U.S.-Japan Ties Hinge on Vote

TOKYO, Saturday — Japan's voters cast ballots today that will determine whether this nation wants to continue and build on its relationship with the U.S. The voting is for seats in the lower house of the Diet, dissolved by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato Dec. 2. The pro-American premier, head of the government and conservative Liberal Democratic Party, claimed credit for securing the Nov. 21 agreement of the U.S. to return Okinawa to Japan during 1972.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS*Wives of POWs Seek Mates' Release

Three more women will fly to Paris tonight, seeking news of their Navy pilot husbands missing in action from 16 to 21 months. None has heard any news of her husband since he was shot down. On Christmas Day, North Vietnamese officials in Paris promised a group of 152 American wives and children they will gradually provide information.

Mrs. Thomas Stegman, Mrs. Robert Duncan and Mrs. Richard Nelson, all of Virginia Beach, Va., sent photographs of their husbands and other information about them to the North Vietnamese. They are going to Paris at their own expense, Mrs. Stegman said, to see if they can speed up the "gradually." "We've thought about it for a long time," she said, "but we decided to wait until after Christmas, hoping we would hear something."

The women sent a wire to the North Vietnamese embassy in Paris to announce they were coming.

After a refusal from North Vietnam, Texas industrialist H. Ross Perot asked the Soviet Union for permission to fly two plane loads of gifts for American prisoners of war to Moscow.

Perot went to the Soviet embassy in Vientiane, Laos, and said officials told him they would answer his request later. He said he planned to fly to Bangkok and check with Soviet officials there.

If the Soviets grant permission, Perot said, then the medical supplies and gift packages would be forwarded from Moscow to Hanoi by mail. North Vietnam refused Friday to let the planes fly to Hanoi.

CARDINAL VISIT

Cardinal Terence Cooke of New York arrived in Manila from Vietnam Friday for holiday visits with American servicemen and a meeting with President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines. The Roman Catholic prelate is on a world tour of American military bases, following a tradition established by the late Cardinal Francis Spellman of New York.

NEW YORK — Although foreign steel producers trimmed their exports to the American market by a respectable 4 million tons, or 22 per cent, in 1969, domestic steel producers still want legislation import quotas. The drop in steel imports was predictable because of the voluntary export curbs extracted from Japanese and European producers by the Johnson Administration in November 1968. According to the agreements, exports to the American markets will be permitted to rise by five per cent or 700,000 tons, in 1970.

Plight of Needy Families Hit

MODESTO — Stanislaus County officials criticized poverty workers Friday for presenting a "one-sided picture" of the plight of needy families in this agriculturally rich valley. Charles Dixon, chief county administrative officer, said the food shortage in the county was adequately met before 10 tons of surplus food was trucked from Sacramento for distribution to 200 poor families. "The board of supervisors reviewed the situation just last week and reported at that time the food was not needed," Dixon said. Capt. R. C. Fitton, superintendent of the Salvation Army, which serves as the clearing house for emergency food programs in the county, said more food was available than officials of the Community Action Commission distributed Christmas Eve and Christmas day.

Stockyard Picketing Renewed

KANSAS CITY — Livestock handlers resumed picketing the Kansas City stockyards Friday. Union members suspended their efforts on Christmas so they could be with their families. No negotiations are scheduled between Local 576 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and the Kansas City Stock Yards Company. The union says it is not on strike, only protesting what it claims is a company lockout. Union members said they are seeking wages comparable to those paid in St. Louis and St. Joseph, Mo.

The death of Vice Adm. Yakov T. Reznichenko, the second in command of Soviet border troops, was reported Friday in the armed forces newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star). He was 55. A brief obituary on the last page, signed by "a group of comrades," said Reznichenko "died suddenly while on duty." It offered no details and did not say when or where he died. Reznichenko was commander of Soviet naval forces in the Baltic during World War II and was decorated for his services with two orders of the Red Banner.

Poetess Natalia Gorbaneskaya, one of the 46 intellectuals who signed a petition to the United Nations alleging trampling of human rights in the Soviet Union, was arrested Wednesday, sources said Friday. AUTHOR DIES

Louise de Vilmorin, one of France's leading authors, died Friday night at her home in Verrières le Buisson, near Paris. She was 87. The cause of death was reported to be a heart attack. A distinguished figure in the French world of letters, she was known particularly as a life-long friend of author André Malraux, who was minister of culture under President de Gaulle. Some of her many novels were regarded as minor classics. She appeared frequently in recent years on French television as a storyteller.

Alarming Drug Use Hike Cited by Grand Jury

The 1969 Los Angeles County Grand Jury, citing an "alarming" increase in the use of illegal drugs, called Friday for a re-evaluation of educational methods used to warn the public about the dangers of drug abuse.

In its final report, the jury said that as of Dec. 8 it had investigated 138 criminal cases and returned 132 indictments. Of the total cases, it involved narcotics and dangerous drugs and the jury returned indictments in all of them.

Such cases "accentuated an alarming picture of the widespread use of narcotics and dangerous drugs by young people from all strata of society," said the jury's criminal complaints committee.

Channel Entrance Dredged

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — A dredge began pumping sand from the entrance to the Santa Barbara channel into the Harbor Friday to clear a passage closed to most boat traffic for almost two weeks.

The channel entrance this week was reduced by drifting sand into an opening only 10 feet wide and four feet deep at low tide and 800 boats were marooned in the harbor.

City engineer and director of public works R. Dennis Hogle said the city owned dredge resumed pumping operations Friday afternoon after repair of the main pump shaft. The breakdown halted the clearing of sand forced into the channel the past three weeks by heavy seas.

The state also approved funds for Santa Barbara's rental of a second and larger dredge from Newport Beach expected to join in the operation to deepen and widen the channel today.

Hogle said it was hoped that by next Tuesday the two dredges would have opened a channel about 15 feet deep and 180 feet wide at low tide. The harbor entrance normally is 20 feet in depth and several hundred feet in width.

Spilled Gas Blamed for Carson Fire

An accidental gasoline spill touched off a $200,000 blaze at a Carson motorcycle parts firm, fire investigators said Friday.

Three teen-agers received minor burns in the fire, which heavily damaged Triple A Accessories Inc., 134 W. 168th St. The fire broke out about 1:27 a.m.

The three youths — who did not immediately seek treatment — were Steven M. Nichols, 18, of 16415 Wilkie Ave., Gardena; Wilby E. Vee, 18, of 2601 W. 163rd St., Gardena, and John T. Blankenship, 17.

The 90-by-90-foot concrete block building received about $100,000 damage and the contents within sustained another $100,000 damage, firemen said.

MATSON FLEET READY TO CONTINUE SAILINGS

The Matson Navigation Co.'s 40-ship fleet will steam out of Long Beach and other West Coast ports today for the first time since Nov. 17, when they were tied up by a labor dispute.

The dispute started over the size of crews for two Matson container ships being built on the East Coast.

The strike was settled last weekend in San Francisco with the help of federal mediators.

300 Mourn at Navy Service for Miramar Crash Victims

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Five Navy chaplains spoke of courage and hope at a memorial service Friday for 11 men killed when a jet plane crashed into a hangar at Miramar Naval Air Station.

On another matter, the jury noted that the annual cost of Los Angeles County government has climbed during the past 30 years from $94.33 million to $1.77 billion. It recommended "the greatest restraint and austerily" in county spending.

Diocese Taxed $1.6 Million

As 300 persons listened quietly, 18 men of the naval station's bluejacket choir sang, "If Thy But Suffer God to Guide Thee."

Rev. Joseph Howard, senior Protestant chaplain on the base 15 miles from San Diego, and Rev. William J. Walsh, senior Roman Catholic chaplain, participated. There is no Jewish chaplain on base, and none of the dead was Jewish.

Wet-eyed widows and parents were among survivors at the service.

Elsewhere, private funerals were being held or arranged. A service is planned today in the Church of Christ at Vista for John Hunter, 23, and his brother Christopher, 20, among those killed.

The dead included a civilian, Kenneth A. Hecht, 25, of San Diego. He was working Monday in the maintenance hangar hit by a disabled plane, an F-8J, from which the pilot had ejected after reporting trouble.

Two of the 14 injured men were taken off the critical list during the day. But a naval hospital spokesman said the condition of Petty Officer I.C. Sank Thomas and Lt. Cmdr. William F. Emery was still serious.

The accident, worst in Miramar's history, is being investigated by a three-officer board.

Jody Goes to Foster Family, After Ordeal

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Jody Lansdown, the 5-year-old girl found clinging to a fence beside Highway 99 last October, has been placed with a foster family in Bakersfield.

SKULL DATED AT 7,000 B.C.

A human skull found in 1914 in La Brea Pits has been found to be 9,000 years old, making it one of the oldest intact skulls in the Western Hemisphere.

JODY'S mother, Betty Lansdown Fouquet, and her common-law husband, Ronald Fouquet, currently are awaiting trial in Kern County jail on charges of child abandonment. The couple, on advice of attorneys, has refused to discuss the case.

Authorities are still searching for another child of Mrs. Fouquet, Jeffrey, 8, who is missing.

The Fouquets were arrested in their Bell Gardens home several days after Jody was found clinging to the fence. She was a startled highway patrolman her parents had left her there and told her to say her name was Smith and that she lived in Bakersfield.

Mrs. Fouquet gave birth to another child after her arrest and it is now in protective custody.

Agnew Stresses Tough Asia

Says U.S. to Keep Pledges, Expect
Self-Sufficiency

BY ERNIE HERNANDEZ
From Our National Bureau

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, on his first foreign trip will stress the Nixon doctrine of U.S. adherence to commitments and military and economic self-sufficiency.

Talking to reporters aboard Air Force 2 on the first leg of his 25-day 10-nation Far East tour as the President's emissary, Agnew said "the entire basis of this trip is to emphasize self-sufficiency."

First stop will be Manila where he will attend the second inauguration of Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos on Dec. 30.

Agnew said he will have in-depth discussions on U.S. military base negotiations and balance of payments.

IN HIS FIRST in-flight press conference, Agnew said President Nixon isn't strongly for or against the proposed $44.5 million slotted for Hawthorne-built F-5 fighter jets for Taiwan.

He attacked North Vietnamese leaders as "base and callous" for giving false hopes to the wives of U.S. prisoners who spent Christmas in Paris to plead for their husbands' release.

The Nixon doctrine, as expressed by the vice-president, calls for:

U.S. to live up to all its treaty obligations with the Asians.

U.S. to stimulate economic growth of smaller nations.

Nations to handle their own insurgency problems.

Five nations to provide general security through mutual assistance.

"The basis of this doctrine is military and economic self-sufficiency and a better balance of power in Asia," said Agnew.

On the Taiwan jets, Agnew disagreed with Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler who said last week that State Secretary William Rogers opposed the giving of the jet squadron to Taiwan.

Agnew said the President's position is that jets are "only one implementing factor among many. What is important is that there is nothing changed in our commitment to Taiwan."

The $44.5 million item was approved by the House but rejected by the Senate in the 1970 foreign aid appropriations bill which has been delayed until Congress reconvenes Jan. 19.

Agnew said Nixon wouldn't veto the foreign aid bill whether it does or doesn't contain the Taiwan jets sum.

several hours beforehand when Agnew would arrive and were requested to keep the information from the public.

No explanation was given for the secrecy, but one local security officer said "the orders came from Washington."

The vice president, his wife and a party of aides left Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland Friday morning. His plane made a 90-minute refueling stop at Travis Air Force Base in California.

For the most part, Agnew's scheduled stops during the 25-day trip will be in countries Nixon had to pass by in his Asian trip last summer. But, like the President, Agnew may make an unannounced trip to the Vietnam war zone to visit U.S. troops.

Agnew will visit Guam, the Philippines, Formosa, Thailand, Nepal, Afghanistan, Malaysia, Singapore, Bali, Australia, and New Zealand.

Strike at Hospital Is Over

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Union leaders called off their 12-week strike against St. Joseph Hospital Friday and voted to return to their jobs Monday at Bishop Joseph A. morning.

"And I'm afraid we're in for another storm either late Sunday or Monday," said a busy meteorologist at the Boston Weather Bureau.

Visibility often was near zero. Snowplow crews many of whom had been on the job since Thursday night — were hardpressed just to keep their vehicles from getting stuck. At one point an exasperated plow operator in Danbury, Conn., said: "It's hopeless."

The snow fell so quickly — sometimes at the rate of three inches an hour — that as soon as a street was cleared it was covered again. Minor flooding was another problem. In Boston and New York, where the precipitation changed to freezing rain, catch basins began clogging, and heavy slush covered many roads.

Floodwaters inundated the bridge connecting adjacent Bell Island with Norwalk, Conn., cutting off the island from the mainland. But officials said the situation was not critical.

"We are agreeing to the proposals of Bishop Durick, as endorsed by Dr. Abernathy and the 12 black community leaders, with some hesitation," Epps said. "We are going back in good faith. If the proposals are not honored, then it will be the hospital that is continuing the strike."

L. K. THOMPSON, vice chairman of the hospital's board of trustees, said, "During the 80 days the strike has continued, we have hired some replacements. We do not want to inconvenience them. We will re-hire the strikers as we need them and will give them all consideration."

The strike was called after the hospital and union were unable to agree on what classes of nonprofessional workers at St. Joseph should take part in a union representation election.

Abernathy and the four other ministers were jailed when they refused to make the token bonds after being indicted on a charge of encouraging Negro pupils to boycott Memphis schools to take part in protest demonstrations.

THE DEMONSTRATIONS were called by a Negro coalition in support of the hospital strike and to apply pressure on the City School Board to win a greater voice for blacks in the administration of the city school system.

The boycott ended after the Memphis chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People withdrew from the coalition.

stretched from Georgia up the coast through New England and as far west as the Great Lakes, weathermen said.

The fresh snow topped off a mantle already two feet deep in some sections of New England and upper New York State.

"And I'm afraid we're in for another storm either late Sunday or Monday," said a busy meteorologist at the Boston Weather Bureau.

VIET BOUND BERET HITS THE SKIDS

ANDOVER, Mass. (UPI)

Jacob Allston, 21, a Green Beret on a 14-day leave and headed for Boston's Logan International Airport to begin his flight back to Vietnam, found the going rough Friday.

They didn't report for work until 7 a.m. Friday, the hour at which they normally report, and the storm had a seven-hour headstart on them by then. Public bus service was canceled until conditions improved, and City Manager Francis J. McGrath asked everyone at mid-morning to remain out of the snow-clogged downtown area.

Westfield, a community of 30,000 in western Massachusetts, was in similar trouble because of a contract dispute. Mayor John J. Palczynski declared a state of emergency because of the situation there.

Thousands of workers were given Friday off as part of the Christmas holiday, and commuter traffic in the northeast was less than normal.

Scores of stalled autos dotted the Massachusetts Turnpike and New York State Thruway, and at one point, a 234-mile stretch of the thruway from Syracuse to Harriman was shut down.

The speed limit on the Massachusetts turnpike was cut from 65 miles per hour to 40 early in the day, and state police advised everyone who didn't travel to stay home.

Nearly every major airport in the northeast was closed at one point or another.

About 1,000 Christmas travelers clogged the terminal at Bradley International Airport in Windsor Locks, Conn.

Power failures were widespread, and some cities were nearly isolated.

One of these was the central Massachusetts city of Worcester — population almost 200,000. City officials and the union representing Worcester's plow and sand truck operators have been embroiled in a contract dispute, and the operators have been refusing to work overtime.

20 Homes Damaged in Arcadia Brush Fire

A brush fire damaged at least 10 expensive homes in Arcadia Friday after leaping through palm trees from its birthplace in the Los Angeles County Arboretum.

Arcadia fire chief Lawrence Way said one home suffered extensive damage from a roof fire. He estimated at least 10 other homes suffered minor damage from blazes on the roof.

The chief said the blaze erupted in a "jungle" area near the lake in the famed botanical gardens, spread quickly to the palms and then jumped from tree to tree, driven by gusty winds. Burning embers from the palms spread through the area, causing the spot fires.

More than 100 firemen with more than 30 pieces of equipment were called in to aid Arcadia fire fighters. The chief said units from Los Angeles County, West Covina, Alhambra, San Gabriel, Pasadena, El Monte, Sierra Madre, Monrovia and Azusa answered the emergency call.

Flames briefly threatened the historic Queen Anne Cottage on the arboretum grounds, causing minor damage.

Way said it took firemen nearly two hours to knock down the blazes. They may have been caused by children playing with matches, Way said.

2 Identical Empty School Gyms Collapse in 12 Hours

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Two unoccupied high school gymsnasiums in Monroe County collapsed into piles of rubble within 12 hours, officials said Friday.

School Superintendent L. M. McDowell said the Madisonville High School gymnasium collapsed Thursday afternoon and the Tellico Plains High School gymnasium collapsed early Friday morning. No one was in either building because of Christmas holidays.

McDowell said both buildings were built three years ago under identical design. The same architect designed both buildings and the same company constructed both buildings.

"We're just thankful there weren't any children inside," said McDowell. "It's really a freak thing."

No estimate of damages was available.

Tellico Plains Mayor Charles Hall said an investigation would be launched into the cause of the collapse. There was about three inches of snow on the roofs when they fell in.

"The snow was apparently the straw that broke the camel's back," said Hall, "but that amount shouldn't be sufficient to damage any well-constructed building."

GNP to Exceed $ Trillion in '70

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Gross National Product will crack the trillion dollar barrier in 1970 without much real growth and there will be no recession, according to the National Industrial Conference Board.

Not one of the 11 prominent economists on its annual economic forum sees recession next year. NICB said.

Martin R. Gainsbrugh, chief economist for NICB and chairman of the panel, had one piece of advice for business as it seeks to peer into the future: "Forecast frequently in 1970."

It's advisable in view of monetary and fiscal uncertainties, he said.

The panel also said industrial production will decline early in the year and rise in the final months.

One panel member said 1970 will be a year of "panting prosperity."

A New York economist says the U.S. economy appears headed for a major recession. Chief economist for the world's largest brokerage firm, Gary Shilling of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, said he believed the economy was 60 to 70 per cent certain to undergo a full-scale recession in 1970. He said the setback would be comparable to the downturns in 1953-54 and 1957-58.

HE SAID he expected further pressure on housing as the delayed effects of tight credit continued to be felt. The economist also said consumer income growth would be retarded as business spending was out. He said sales of appliances and autos would be depressed as a result.

The money had been allotted to this use in the current county budget.

Medicare Rates To Be Raised to $5.30 in July

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The $4 monthly premium for Medicare will go up to $5.30 starting next July 1.

This was announced Friday by Secretary Robert

Tax Bill Acceptable to Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon strongly hinted Friday that he would sign the tax relief-reform bill despite its $2.5-billion cut into expected government revenues for the next fiscal year.

Word that the Administration apparently had decided to live with the legislation that Nixon once threatened to veto, emerged from a meeting the President held with budget director Robert Mayo, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and other aides.

Nixon told newsmen that the House-Senate conference committee had "commendably reduced the loss of revenue" in its compromise version of the bill which Congress approved Monday. Nevertheless, he said, it carries a revenue loss $2.5 billion greater than the Administration's original tax proposals.

But Mayo said in figuring the final draft of the proposed budget for the 12 months starting July 1, "We are closing all the zippers between revenue and expenditures, pinching very tight and this involves some very heavy breathing in."

The White House said Nixon would deliver his State of the Union address before Congress on Jan. 22, three days after the 1970 Session begins, and submit his proposed fiscal 1971 budget the week of Jan. 26.

Neither Mayo nor Nixon gave any figures, but the new budget is regarded as almost certain to exceed $200 billion for the first time in history.

Proxmire Sees HEW Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire said Friday he thinks President Nixon will back down on his threat to veto the health and education money bill. He added the Senate may be able to override a veto if it comes.

"I think he's reconsidering his threat to veto that bill," the Wisconsin Democrat said of Nixon.

"Actually, it pretty much meets the President's request in dollars," Proxmire said. "Overall there's only a difference of two or three per cent and that shouldn't be the basis of a veto by President Nixon," he added.

Humphrey Stands Behind 1968 Talk

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Friday of his 1968 Salt Lake City campaign speech, "I did what I thought was right and responsible at Salt Lake City."

Humphrey, home in Minnesota for the Christmas holidays, issued a two-sentence statement regarding a television interview given by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

In the interview, Johnson said a speech by Humphrey at Salt Lake City during his 1968 presiden-

H. Finch of the Health, Education and Welfare Department. He said the present $4 premium rate, set in December 1968, is "too low to cover costs during the current premium period," and he added that the special Medical Insurance Trust Fund is now drawing on its reserves.

President Nixon forecast a "substantial increase" in the premium rate last Sept. 26 when he asked Congress for a 10 per cent raise in Social Security benefits. Congress voted 15 per cent raise in Social Security payments and is now awaiting Nixon's action.

MORE THAN 10 million Americans are now covered by Medicare, of which there are two parts, a voluntary medical insurance program and the basic-government-financed-hospital insurance program. The voluntary program supplements the basic program by helping to pay doctor bills and other medical expenses in and out of the hospital. The monthly premium for the volunteer program was $3 when the program started in 1966. It was increased to $4 in 1968.

Premiums paid by people 65 and older enrolled in the medical insurance part of Medicare cover half the cost of their protection. The other half comes out of general federal revenues.

Finch said the premium rate should have been increased last December, in accordance with advice from Social Security actuaries. Failure to do so, he said, makes it necessary now "to provide for a somewhat higher margin of contingency than would otherwise be necessary."

He said about half of the $1.30 increase—$4 cents—is needed just to finance the program at the level of current operations." The other 66 cents will be needed, he said, for the following purposes:

Twenty-six cents to cover an estimated increase of about 6 per cent in the level of physicians' fees; about 12 cents to cover an estimated increase of 2 per cent in the use of Medicare services; about 6 cents because the $50 deductible which a patient pays will be a smaller proportion of the total covered charges; and 22 cents to provide a 4 per cent margin for contingencies.

THE AMERICAN Patients Association, a consumer health organization formed last year, criticized Finch's decision as "inflationary" and "fiscally and administratively irresponsible."

In a letter to the secretary, Theodore O. Cron, president of the association, said the premium rate increase demonstrates that the program "is to be administered as a benefit primarily for physicians who wish to escalate their personal incomes."

Humphrey said in his statement Friday, "I did not play politics with Vietnam during the campaign nor have I played politics with this serious issue since then."

The statement was released through Humphrey's press secretary, Norman Sherman. Sherman said Humphrey might make a further comment on the Johnson interview after it is shown today.

ARMY IMPRESSES CIVILIAN COUNSEL

My Lai Probers Fly to Viet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A civilian lawyer appointed as a sort of public watchdog over the Army's investigation of the alleged My Lai massacre said Friday he is "impressed with the vigor, candor and skill" with which it is moving.

Robert MacCrate, a New York attorney said also he is satisfied with the opportunity the Army board has given him and an associate civilian lawyer, Jerome K. Walsh Jr., to develop their own lines of questioning.

MacCRATE AND LT. GEN. William R. Peers, who heads the Army board, met briefly with newsmen several hours before taking off for an on-the-spot investigation and interrogation of some persons who may know what happened March 16, 1969, the day of the alleged massacre at the Vietnamese hamlet.

Peers told reporters his board's mission is to assess the adequacy of investigations made after the alleged incident and the sufficiency of reviews of the field investigation, and to determine "if there was any attempt to cover up the incident itself."

The Army has said that an investigation was conducted in the Americal Division shortly after reports were received of mass civilian killings at My Lai, but this investigation concluded there were no grounds for action.

THE ARMY undertook a major investigation, still in progress, more than a year later, after receiving a letter from a former soldier, claiming there had been a massacre.

A lieutenant and a sergeant already have been charged and 24 soldiers and former soldiers are under investigation.

Murder charges against First Lt. William L. Calley Jr. involve the possible killing of 109 Vietnamese civilians. Calley faces a court-martial at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The trip of the 11-man group under Peers and Staff Sgt. David Mitchell, currently stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas, has been charged with assault with intent to commit murder involving 30 civilians. The Army has not yet decided whether to court-martial him.

PEERS and MacCrate refused to give any hint as to any opinions they have formed so far.

The Peers investigation started Dec. 2 and 3 witnesses have been questioned. Many documents also have been studied, they said.

The general and the special civilian lawyer would not say whom they would question in Vietnam.

They refused to discuss anything substantive, limiting their remarks to procedural matters.

"I would not want to say anything for one minute that would prejudice this investigation," Peers said.

The trip of the 11-man group under Peers and MacCrate is expected to take about 10 or 12 days.

THE THREE-STAR general said he thinks that about 10 days after they return, the inquiry board may be able to sum up the whole situation.

The board's report will go to Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor, and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

While Peers and MacCrate are gone, closed hearings will continue in the Pentagon under the direction of Gen. Island West.

Thus the Air Force and

MILITARY CUT

Air Force's new F-15 fighter, for which a development contract was awarded early this week to McDonnell Douglas Corp., and a version of the Army's new main battle tank, being developed jointly with West Germany, that is less costly than once projected.

BUT FUNDS are severely limited for new Navy submarines and aircraft carriers and Army helicopters.

The helicopter cutback, officials explain, is in line with the Administration's new strategy which places less emphasis on having large standing forces available to fight one war in Asia while another large force remains ready to do simultaneous battle in Europe. The new strategy looks to fighting only one major war at a time, with the orientation toward the European theater.

One Administration planner says: "We're moving toward smaller, leaner, better equipped forces. But make no mistake, we've cut down so sharply, we've decided to take a greater risk in meeting our commitments around the world."

Helicopters, it is pointed out, are primarily needed for those Army divisions designed to fight in Asia where the enemy air threat is minimal.

BUT DECISIONS on really basic reductions in the force structure — in the number of Army divisions and the number of Navy attack aircraft carriers — are deferred until the next budget cycle one year hence, officials say.

Pentagon planners point out that primary responsibility for proposing specific cuts in this first full budget prepared under Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird was assigned to the services.

He was a charter member of the Lions Club of Seal Beach, and member of Masonic Lodge and Orange County Peace Officers Association.

Services will be Monday at 11 a.m. in Smith Mortuary, Huntington Beach.

the Navy proposed saving money by cutting down on the flying time normally allotted to each pilot, and the Army proposed shutting down some of its costly corps and Army headquarters organizations within the United States.

OTHER programs were stretched out, rather than deleted. The Navy, for example, will request less money than usual to buy long lead-time items for a new nuclear powered aircraft carrier.

But it is permitted to continue its modernization program by buying some new destroyers and amphibious landing craft. To do so, it had to put into mothballs more than 100 old vessels of various types, a decision that was announced earlier this year.

One Administration planner says: "We're moving toward smaller, leaner, better equipped forces. But make no mistake, we've cut down so sharply, we've decided to take a greater risk in meeting our commitments around the world."

Huntington Villas Capturing Interest

The nation's home-building industry, always quick to adopt ideas that originate in Southern California, is turning its attention to an unusual residential development in Huntington Beach.

Object of its interest is Huntington Villas, a dramatic example of the "homes with an income" concept, a plan which gives the buyer possession not only of an elaborate, private home but of a number of adjoining rental apartments as well.

George Zahler, developer of Huntington Villas and regarded as a major factor in the rapidly increasing popularity of the home-plus-income plan, notes that most buyers are business or professional people who see in it an effective way to match outgo of home payments with income from rental units.

Designated like a single home, the owner's villa provides up to 2,000 square feet of living area with as many as four bedrooms and three baths. Raised hearth fireplaces and paneled dens are decor features.

Adjoining the owner's villa are four or five income-producing apartment units.

Huntington Villas centers on Stark Street, just east of Beach Boulevard. From the San Diego Freeway, the community is reached by turning off at Beach Boulevard and driving south a few blocks.

Price range of the properties is from $102,500 to $113,500. Loans at 7% per cent are available. The developer notes that substantial tax benefits accrue to the buyer.

Mel Mould Member of IREF

Melvin L. Mould, 5539 E. Spring St., Long Beach, owner of Mould Realty, has been admitted to membership in the International Real Estate Federation through its American Chapter, an affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. It was announced by Robert C. Nordblom, Boston, president.

The organization lists among its objectives the promotion of high professional standards and good relations among individuals engaged in the calling of real estate in all nations and the encouragement of the private ownership of real property and understanding of its obligations.

The International Real Estate Federation was formed 20 years ago, and today has members in most of the developed Free World countries.

Headquartered in Paris, the IREF holds its congress (convention) in a different country each year.

In 1965 the Congress was held in Brussels; in 1966, Tokyo; in 1967, Copenhagen; in 1968, Mexico City and in 1969, in Lucerne. The 1970 International Congress will meet in Dublin, Ireland.

Rancho Realtors to Attend CREA Program in L.A.

Bruce Mulhearn, newly elected president of the Rancho Los Cerritos Board of Realtors will attend the annual officer's training program conducted by the 50,000-member California Real Estate Association at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles Friday, Jan. 9. It was announced by H. Jackson Pontius, CREA executive vice president.

Training sessions will also be conducted for local real estate board secretaries and Wilma S. Casteig, secretary of the Rancho Los Cerritos Board will attend.

In addition, the regional vice president of CREA for this area, Robert Y. Prigmore of Bellflower, will attend a special session of the program devoted to preparing the 32 regional vice presidents of the state association for the many activities and duties involved in that office.

"EACH YEAR we hold these special training programs as a refresher course," said Pontius. "It enables the local real estate boards to provide better professional assistance to Realtors, and through them, increased service to the public."

Directors of the statewide group from this area to be installed during the meeting are Vern Ligtenberg, Dan Keulen, Cliff Arkell, Bunny Banks and Pat Scott. Al Syres and E. Thornton Ibbetson will be installed as directors-at-large. Mrs. Casteig said she expects 25 other board members to attend.

DRUG CRACKDOWN DUE AT FESTIVAL

Graham to Make Rock Scene

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI) — As authorities checked for hidden narcotics, rock music fans began arriving in South Florida Friday for a three-day festival headlined by pop music groups and evangelist Billy Graham.

Technicians fought stiff, chilly winds as they raced to meet the festival's scheduled midnight start at the Miami-Hollywood Speedway. A girl lighting technician was taken to the hospital when hit on the head by collapsed scaffolding.

Broward County Sheriff Ed Stack and a small contingent of officers checked the speedway during the day in what he said was a final survey for hidden drugs.

The officers were armed with a new "stop and frisk" ordinance adopted 4-0 Tuesday by the county commission expressly for the festival.

Noting reports of widespread drug use at the Thanksgiving weekend rock festival in nearby Palm Beach County, Robert Berkelew, Broward Commission chairman, told Stack:

"This ordinance has done its best to forestall this happening here. This ordinance will give you the power to do your job better."

Palm Beach County Sheriff William Heidman told a congressional investigating committee in Miami early this month that $1 million worth of drugs was brought into the festival. Officers arrested 152 persons, but Heidman said 5,000 could have been arrested if deputies had been available.

The stop-and-frisk ordinance gives officers the power to conduct a search without a warrant if they believe a person may be carrying narcotics.

Maj. Thomas Atkinson, commander of the officers at the Hollywood festival, said: "We're going to search known narcotics visitors, not just anyone."

Graham will preach at 11 a.m. Sunday. Continuous music will be provided over the 72-hour festival by groups including the Turtles, Grateful Dead, King James Version and the New Japanese Anti-Riot Movement.

In a telegram to the festival promoter, Graham said, "I really dig this generation of young people — they are great. They are the most exciting and challenging generation in American history. Jesus was a young revolutionary who transformed his generation. Today's young people should make the 70's the greatest decade in American history."

Promoter Norman Johnson predicted 35,000 persons would attend the festival.

Some 200 doctors, interns and nurses volunteered to man first-aid stations equipped to treat drug-induced ailments.

The injured technician, Casey Corrasco, 19, was admitted to Hollywood Memorial Hospital with undetermined injuries and was reported in fair condition.

'Mr. Deeds' TV Actor Rides His Bike at High Speeds Over Rough Roads

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — As a boy in Florida, Monte Markham skinned about the Everglades in swamp buggies and air boats, hunting alligators and rattlesnakes. The reptiles brought $1 a foot from tanners.

In junior college, performing in a play convinced Monte he wanted to be an actor; a goal he has pursued steadily. He stars this season in ABC-TV's "Mr. Deeds Goes to

More TV News on Page A-8

Town," a series based on the old Gary Cooper movie.

But throughout his acting career — Shakespearean roles, Greek and European classics — a latent love of exotic fast travel has lingered.

So today, Markham owns and drives, just for fun:

—A low, Markham-designed roadster in which he can do 360-degree turns at 40-50 miles per hour.

—A dune buggy he designed. —A motorcycle on which he soars 30 feet through the air from a ramp.

What's he think about during those 30 feet? "That I must land straight."

The roadster-spinning is to test the car's structural stability; the motorcycle jumping is practice for weekend riding of rough desert trails.

What's the kick in such speedy sports? "Control of the power," says Markham, whose fellow enthusiasts include motorcycle rider Steve McQueen and auto racer Jim Garner.

SO FAR, Monte has convinced his TV bosses his violent hobbies won't suddenly land him in traction and their series without a star. Sprains and a few lacerations have been his only injuries.

MONTE MARKHAM . . . Loves Speed

Besides, he argues, acting itself can be dangerous. A fellow actor's 46-pound sword once laid Monte's scalp open, requiring six stitches, when Monte failed to raise his shield in time during an Ashland, Ore., Shakespearean festival. Another

Kennedy Home Reportedly Up for Sale in Palm Beach

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

Florida real estate circles say the oceanfront home of the late Joseph P. Kennedy at Palm Beach, Fla., is available for sale. Placing this scenic, historic house on the market is being done quietly and selectively.

If this is the case, the soft, scarcely audible sell may reflect the wishes not only of Mrs. Rose Kennedy, widow of the former ambassador, but that of her only surviving son, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

SURVIVING members of the family would shudder at the thought of having the graceful old Palm Beach relic sold at any price to an insensitive sort who might exploit, even commercialize on the famous men and women who sunned and swam there.

Any suggestion of a sensationalized scramble for the house might influence the family to hang on to the place. This, however, might prove hard to do, even for a wealthy family, for the Joseph P. Kennedy property overlooking the blue-green sea would command a hellishly high price for land alone.

When Joe Kennedy died not long ago, there were many references to the "star struck" or tragic history of his family — two sons assassinated, another son killed during World War II, a daughter killed in an air crash, another daughter mentally retarded, and the present senator from Massachusetts under a publicity cloud because of his Martha's Vineyard automobile accident last summer.

Because of a stroke several years before his death, Joe Kennedy was not able to read during his late life. He could make out larger newspaper headlines, but it was questionable how much the stroke victim comprehended.

Thus, he was mercifully spared the sight of current motion picture and television fan magazine covers which continue to feature various members of the Kennedy family.

BUT HE ALSO said he found other indications of change that were more hopeful. They included the rise of hippie fashions, refusal of some stores to sell toy weapons, and comments by Harriman. Simonov, who knew Harriman when he was wartime ambassador to Moscow, interviewed him during the trip.

"I CANNOT START them until we're through with this damned war in Vietnam," he quoted Harriman, former chief U.S. negotiator at the peace talks in Paris, as saying. "While this war continues I cannot write memoirs. I cannot concentrate on anything else while it is going on. All my spiritual force is concentrated on stopping this war."

The Soviet writer added parenthetically that he could not "verify the translation of the epithet used before the word war, but I think that is the word he used."

WILSON LEADS TOP 10 IN BRITISH POLL

LONDON (UPI) — British radio listeners voted Prime Minister Harold Wilson man of the decade and included four Americans in the list of the 10 most important men of the 1960s.

The poll of more than 30,000 listeners was announced Friday by the British Broadcasting Corp.

Wilson got 1,051 votes. Opposition Conservative MP Enoch Powell, best known for his suggestion that colored immigrants be paid to return home, was second with 449 votes. Edward Heath, the Conservative party leader, did not make the top 10. The others:

3. John F. Kennedy, the late American president.
4. Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith.
5. The late Pope John XXIII.
6. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., assassinated American civil rights leader.

7. Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II.
8. Dr. Billy Graham, the American evangelist.
9. American astronaut Neil Armstrong, the first man on the moon.
10. Gen. Charles de Gaulle, former president of France.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Smoky, the dalmatian mascot of Fire Engine Company 45, disappeared Friday morning while his owners fought a three-alarm department store blaze in the Bronx. Another fire alarm reunited them.

The two-year-old dog, veteran of 15,000 alarms, was found by children shortly after noon and taken to another fire house.

While there, an alarm sounded and the dog jumped onto a fire truck.

He rode with the men to clear a flooded street and was reunited there with his own company who also had responded to the call.

The fire fighters of Company 45 cheered when they saw their mascot on the other truck. Smoky rode home in his customary position near the driver's seat on the company engine.

was a high diver and earned money and free meals doing dives in aquatic shows around Miami. "But once I hit the water from 30 feet and creamed myself," he recalls. "Blacked both eyes and broke my nose. So I gave that up."

Markham had an MGB sports car when he went to the Riverside road race last year and met Max Thummel, now his car builder. Thummel then was an engineer for Dean Jeffries, who designed a "Monkeemobile" for TV's Monkees series and a car used in the "Green Hornet" series.

Markham and Thummel sat down to plan an engine change for Monte's MGB, to give it more speed, and ended up designing a whole new car.

The "Manatee Roadster" has a fiberglass body and Ford power system on the MGB chassis. It is named for the Florida community later merged with Bradenton, where Monte was born.

Red Scribe Sees Hope for Peace

MOSCOW (UPI) — Hippies, toy stores and Avellan Harriman's condemnation of "this damned war in Vietnam" bring hopes for a future of peace between the United States and Russia, a prominent Soviet writer said Friday.

Konstantin Simonov, the Soviet Union's best known war novelist, said in a Pravda article that a recent trip to America showed him there remains a possibility "that aggressive forces of imperialism might be able to unleash a war between the United States and the Soviet Union."

He said they reminisced about the war years and Simonov asked Harriman if he planned to write his memoirs.

BUT HE ALSO said he found other indications of change that were more hopeful. They included the rise of hippie fashions, refusal of some stores to sell toy weapons, and comments by Harriman. Simonov, who knew Harriman when he was wartime ambassador to Moscow, interviewed him during the trip.

"I CANNOT START them until we're through with this damned war in Vietnam," he quoted Harriman, former chief U.S. negotiator at the peace talks in Paris, as saying. "While this war continues I cannot write memoirs. I cannot concentrate on anything else while it is going on. All my spiritual force is concentrated on stopping this war."

The Soviet writer added parenthetically that he could not "verify the translation of the epithet used before the word war, but I think that is the word he used."

Here's entertainment discovery and development, all wrapped up in a new, educationally-based series for pre-schoolers. Ruth Prins, educator and specialist in children's theater, is "Mrs. Alpha Bet" every Sunday morning. Parents will love it, too.

CBS to Air LBJ Interview Tonight

By GEORGE FRES
TV-Radio Editor

Former President Johnson's first in a series of interviews granted Walter Cronkite of CBS airs tonight on Ch. 2.

I'm not sure how much of the interview will be new. Apparently some news reporting sources considered the interview coverage too good to hold for a set release date and the embargo on release was lifted Thursday night after some sources broke the story.

I don't know how CBS feels about this. The network did not release the figure of how much it had paid Mr. Johnson for his agreement to appear up to 16 hours on the air. But the figure for the three one-hour interviews which covered much of the same material touched on TV.

IN ANY event, the rather full report on the interview has appeared in newspapers and news broadcasts on radio. I doubt that this report will

CBS TCHAIKOVSKY PROGRAM SUPERB

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the things television does superbly is present music in a simple format.

A fine example of this was the Christmas afternoon hour of Tchaikovsky's music by two fine soloists accompanied by an excellent orchestra.

The CBS broadcast, called "S. Hurok Presents — Part III" had Mstislav Rostropovich, cellist, and Emil Gilels, pianist, in concert. Each of the Russian artists was introduced briefly by impresario Hurok, and saved the rest of the time there was only the sound of their music and sight of their faces and hands to claim one's attention.

The timing of the program during the let-down after the holiday was particularly felicitous.

During the evening there was nothing much on the TV screen to keep the viewer tied to his easy chair. The "Family Affair" kids got involved with hamsters. Chief Ironside nailed a modern-day Fagin and saved a good but misguided boy from a life of crime — not the best effort of the series Jim Neighbors and guest star Kay Star had a dandy medley of country songs amid a so-so variety hour. All sorts of things happen on a windy day if, like this youngster, you're lucky enough to be in a snug position to enjoy the view without having to worry about your skirt, your hair or the chill unlike the girl, right, who seems to be hiding behind her windblown tresses.

Messages in L.B.'s Wind

By WALT MURRAY

What did the wind say?

It depended who you were in Long Beach Friday.

"It says freedom," thought a teen-aged boy and girl, skipping down Fourth Street at twilight. His long hair and her longer hair curled and billowed together as chill gusts roared through the street.

They stopped in front of the Ximeno Coffee Shop to frost the glass with their breath, but they didn't go in. Their warmth came from each other.

What did the wind say?

"Death," answered the old woman, cringing deeper into her heavy coat as small branches clattered down around her from an aging maple tree on Daisy Avenue.

She hobbled slowly towards her apartment, clutching the small bag of groceries that would be her evening meal.

What did the wind say?

"Home," said the young father, as his children played before the crackling fireplace. The wind roared down Terraine Avenue outside.

His wife brought brandy coffee and together they listened to the wind moan in their chimney.

What did the wind say?

"Trouble," muttered the motor officer, peering through his goggles into the whirlwinds of dust on Lakewood Boulevard. "Cars," he thought. "Visibility. Tree limbs and plate glass windows."

A jet defied the gusts and shrieked off the runway at Long Beach Airport.

What did the wind say?

"Miracles," thought the small boy. He threw a pebble into the Colorado Lagoon and watched the wind shape circular ripples into strange, twisted ellipses.

Hair's the thing this year, and with an assist from gusts up to 50 miles-per-hour, the practiced observer runs into some wind-blown hair styles. "I can't do a thing with it," the girl at the top appears to be thinking, while the couple, left, appears to be happily riding out the blow.

Deputy Shoots Down Fleeing Ex-Lawman

A former Colorado sheriff's deputy was shot and killed by a Lakewood deputy early Friday after a high-speed auto chase and a 10-minute, lethal cat-and-mouse game with officers on a Bellflower street.

James Edward Coleman, 27, brandished his .38 caliber revolver alternately at police and himself for 10 minutes before he was fatally shot by Deputy Jerry W. Wolf, investigators said.

LAKWOOD Lt. Donald Goodknight said Wolf and other officers repeatedly told Coleman to drop his gun, but Wolf finally fired when Coleman cocked his weapon and pointed it directly at Wolf.

Coleman, shot in front of 9325 Nichols St., died from a single chest wound at County-USC Medical Center.

The mile-long pursuit began when Downey police answered a disturbing peace call from Coleman's wife at 19213 Lakewood Blvd. at 1:15 a.m.

Downey Sgt. Vance Reynolds said Coleman sped away from the house as police arrived and patrol cars followed. As Coleman crossed into Bellflower, sheriff's deputies joined the chase and finally forced the car to stop on Nichols Street.

COLEMAN came out of his car with the gun in his hand, officers said, and police and deputies dived for cover, held their fire and called for reinforcements.

For several minutes, deputies said, Coleman alternately pointed his weapon at himself and in the direction of the officers.

Police said although Coleman had been drinking, he hadn't committed any illegal acts at his own residence.

He had been employed for more than a year as deputy sheriff in Larimer County, Colo., they said.

His employment there was terminated in late November and he came to California.

Mother Says She

Didnt Beat Tot

By MOLLY BURELL

A 22-year-old West Long Beach mother, arraigned Friday on felony child beating charges denied she brutally battered and burned her six-month-old daughter.

Trial for Mrs. Janet J. Mallett, 2356 Webster Ave., was set for Jan. 30 in Long Beach Superior Court.

Mrs. Mallett was arrested Nov. 21 after her daughter, Natalie, was hospitalized in critical condition with severe head injuries, multiple fractures and scald burns.

THE INFANT was kept in the intensive care unit of Harbor General Hospital for more than a week, and is still in the pediatrics ward in fair condition.

Police said Mrs. Mallett, wife of a sailor aboard the Ticonderoga, admitted she hit the baby because it kept crying.

In Mrs. Mallett's preliminary hearing Dec. 10, Dr. Beverly Hildreth of the hospital staff said the child's injuries were "caused by extreme force administered in a systematic manner."

The woman remains in county jail in lieu of $12,500 bail.

5-Year-Old Crash Victim Improving

The 5-year-old survivor of Christmas Day's highway carnage in East Long Beach was in good condition at Long Beach Community Hospital Friday night.

Denise Sanders, of 1405 Jimipero Ave., was recovering from a broken arm, facial cuts and bruises she suffered in a head-on collision on Seventh Street near Mariano Avenue which left her father, mother and infant brother dead.

JAMES KNOX, 22, OF 21 NIETO AVE., driver of the car which police say veered across the center divider and smashed into the Sanders auto, remained in Long Beach jail.

He was booked on suspicion of felony manslaughter and felony drunken driving. No bail has been set in either case.

Killed in the two-car collision were Scott Sanders, 25, his wife, Mary Jane, 21, and their 13-month-old infant son, Scott Jr. They were dead on arrival at Community Hospital.

Knox told officers he lost control of his car as he was driving west on Seventh Street and it veered over the double line and struck the Sanders auto.

Police said Knox's car left 270 feet of skid marks.

The accident occurred at 4 p.m. Christmas Day.

Name Dropper Says: 'Sound It Like It Isn't'

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

To Americans, there seems to be one cardinal rule for English names: under no circumstances should they be pronounced the way they are spelled.

As a result of years of jokes about the name Cholmondeley, most Americans probably know it correctly is pronounced CHU-Mley.

But how about Featherstonhaugh? Or Ayseough? Or Marjoribanks?

A retired school teacher from Leicester, England, has just compiled a list of uncommon names which are commonly mispronounced. He is Philip Burgoyne, an expert on heraldry.

Burgoyne talks about his hobby in a recent issue of the Leicester Chronicle, the newspaper of a Midlands city, a copy of which recently was mailed to the Long Beach Public Library.

Featherstonhaugh, for example, is pronounced FAN-shaw, or sometimes FEZnay. Now, you knew that, didn't you?

Ayscough is ASKew, and Marjoribanks is MARCH-banks, according to Burgoyne.

He admits there is no logic to the name game.

Beauchamp is perhaps a more familiar one. People who have studied French have the worst time of it, because it properly is pronounced BEECham.

If you're talking to an Englishman named Bethune, he should be called BEECHton, says Burgoyne, and the proper pronunciation of Barug is, believe it or not, BARF.

Powell is a fairly common name in the U.S., and has been made famous in films by such people as Dick and Jane. Its British pronunciation, however, would be Pole.

Film stars Audrey or Katherine Hepburn should be called HEEBburn, according to Burgoyne.

And the author of the world's most famous diary is Samuel PEPPIS, not Peeps, as many people call Pepys, the historian said.

The name Youghal is not southern, but properly should be spoken as Yawl.

Try these on for size: Mainwaring is MANNering, Colquhoun is KOHOON, and Brougham is Broom.

And, as a windup, how would you pronounce Levenson-Gower? Or Wriothesley. Well, according to Burgoyne, they come out LOOson-GAW, and ROXley.

You know, Anglo-American relations would be much improved if the two nations just spoke the same language.

SOBER VIEW OF A PINK ELEPHANT

SKUKUZA, South Africa (UPI) — The tourist was sober. He also was firm. He insisted he had seen a pink elephant in Kruger National Park.

"It emerged from the Oliphants River in the heat of the day," said H. E. McIntyre. "The brush of the tip of its tail was snow white and its skin was pearly pink."

Chief Game Ranger Dolf Brynard, skeptical at first, now believes it likely the pink elephant does exist. Since albino characteristics have been discovered in many animals, he says, there is no reason elephants could not be similarly affected.

McIntyre told of seeing the pink elephant twice. Other tourists began searching the game reserve the size of New Jersey. So far no luck.

The last animal census by helicopter indicated there were at least 7,700 elephants in Kruger Park. About 99 per cent of them were seen this year without an albino being spotted.

"Because of this we feel it is most likely that the elephant came into the park from Mozambique," said Brynard.

Kruger Park's unfenced section borders the Portuguese territory. Drought, bush fires and widespread hunting in Mozambique have led to heavy elephant emigration into the South African game reserve in the past decade.

MAYBE ST. VITUS GUILTY

Three dancers who were arrested during a performance of "St. Vitus' dance" in a street pleaded innocent Friday to charges of disturbing the peace.

The dancers were Lawrence Washington, 23, Melinda West, 21, and Ronald Wright, 27.

They were charged in connection with an incident in Haight Street Dec. 17. Police said they refused to discontinue the dance and were blocking the street.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Dwarf fruit trees can be grown in containers, boxes or tubs providing the gardener prepares good drainage and plants the trees in a prepared soil mixture. This should contain organic material that is well firmed around the root ball. The trees should be watered and fed properly. Plants should be quarter turned about twice a month.

Proper watering of container plants is a vexing problem. The tendency is to fill the container once with water and consider the job done. This isn't sufficient for a watering. Containers should be refilled with water at least three or four times.

Containers should be raised on bricks or thick flat stakes. This allows the excess water to flow out. The container bottoms have an opportunity to dry faster. The container bottoms that set flush to the floor or ground tend to stay damp. This may attract false wireworms, or sow bugs.

DWARF CITRUS furnish fragrant white blossoms in the patio or open sunny porch area. The ripening fruit provides an additional color attraction. The fruit harvest is enjoyable. (Protect citrus from possible frost damage.)

The dwarf stonefruit trees, peaches or nectarines, also provide their share of decoration. Pink flowers give way to the burgeoning new foliage for the year. The slow developing fruit turns from green to orange. All of this is followed by the final happy experience of fruit harvesting.

These dwarf fruit trees are available at most nurseries the year round. The dwarf deciduous fruit trees also are obtainable during the bare root winter season.

By planting a spring flower garden it is possible to obtain a varied color display but it must be planted soon.

Various blue shades of delphiniums were set out at the back part of the carefully planned sunny flower garden.

A group of bright, vivid snapdragons were set out in front of the delphiniums, with a group of stocks beside the snaps for the cooler contrasting shades of colors. In front of the snapstocks was a low edging of giant pansies in mixed colors. It was beautiful.

THE SHADE garden can be colorful as well if the gardener will remember that the white and delicate pastels of pinks and lavers of the primula malacoides and cinerarias are planted in the darkest section of the garden. Planting deeper and deeper color varieties in summer areas with the darkest reds and deep blue colors getting the most light.

The perennial English primroses grow in shade but stand up to about three hours of morning sun. They furnish a wide range of colors. They bloom annually during the spring season. Grow some in pots for patio garden color. Bury the pots in the garden where showy color is desired.

One of the pressing jobs you should follow through on this month is to cut back the old dahlia foliage to within four inches of the ground. Carefully dig up the roots and turn them upside down to drain the moisture from the remainder hollow stalks.

Day or two later wash the soil off the roots, then bury them in a box of sand. Keep the sand barely moist to prevent the roots from drying too much. Place the box where rains won't get at it.

Rhodesia Anglicans Eliminate Queen

SALISBURY, W. — The Anglican Church in Rhodesia will replace references to the queen and the British royal family in its Book of Common Prayer, with prayers for those "in authority in this land."

DWARF CITRUS FRUIT TREE IN CONTAINER

DO IT NOW

Christmas gift plants need particular attention indoors. The container wrappings should be removed. Potted plants of cyclamen, poinsettias, azaleas, indoor house plants or other gift plants saucers or dishes the containers set in should be emptied of water after the plants are watered. The pots must not stand in the water.

Foliage of azaleas and any other outdoor plants kept in containers indoors should be sprinkled in the back porch wash tub to provide a humid condition. The squeeze-ball type mist sprayer can also be used to moisten the foliage.

GARDEN CLINIC

Address all questions to Garden Editor, Independent, Press-Telegram, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801. No stamps or self-addressed envelopes, please. Answers are given only in this column.

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Q. — Recently I bought a place at Hemet, California. I have three English Walnut trees on the place. One is almost dead. The dead limbs are full of worms. I would like to know how to get rid of these tree killers. E.M.

A. — The pests likely are borers, rather than worms. Spray the trees with a thrips-borer spray. The spray bottle label lists the time of treatment.

Q. — My 10 year old orange tree was two feet high when I planted it between the garage and the neighbor's house. There is not much ground space. Every year the tree is full of buds and blossoms. Of all those blooms I get one large Valencia orange. Is there anything I can do to the ground so the flowers won't fall off? Other orange tree I have, grew from a seed. I get lots of oranges but they split before they ripen and fall. This tree has lots of root space. A.J.

A. — Day or two after tree has had a deep soaking, spread  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch layer of manure from tree trunk to two feet beyond the drip line on each side of the tree and slowly soak well. Mid-March feed it citrus food. Feed again two more times at  $\frac{1}{2}$  to three months intervals. The other orange tree which fruit splits should be watered periodically, but only as it needs it. The fruit splitting may be due to erratic watering.

Q. — Can you tell me what's wrong with a persimmon tree when it keeps dropping the fruit all summer long. This fall it had only 15 or 20 fruit that got ripe. It is in my backyard with grass around it. H.B.

A. — Keep the lawn sprinkler from watering the tree each time the lawn is watered. Deep water the persimmon tree nearly to the top. Keep the material moist. It takes a year or longer to kill the stump through the roots."

Q. — What is the enclosed sample branch of hedge? It grows on east and south side of the house. I have it trimmed about twice a year. It is dying in spots. I believe it to be about 20 years old. What can I do about it? W.F.S.

A. — Hedge is Buxus Japonica, Japanese Boxwood. Soil might be heaped up around the base of the plants. The gardener could cause this by using a square-edge shovel to keep the soil away from the lawn edge in order to keep a straight lawn line. This portion of the trunk should be exposed to light and air. Another possible cause may be dogs wetting certain spots of the hedge. Still another cause might be pests such as thrips, spider mites, or scale. Scale looks like dark brown pimples and squish when you jab your fingernail into them. Spray with a scale oil spray. If other kinds of bugs are causing damage—use an insecticide that lists various kinds of pests on the bottle label. Follow up with periodic hosing of the hedge with a sharp-spray stream of water at least twice a month. Such hosing dislodges dead leaves from settling in branch crotches. Such leaves are used by certain kinds of bugs as nesting places. Take the D.D.T. to your nurseryman for disposal.

Q. — Can you tell me what's wrong with a persimmon tree when it keeps dropping the fruit all summer long. This fall it had only 15 or 20 fruit that got ripe. It is in my backyard with grass around it. H.B.

A. — Kindly let me know when is the correct time of the year to divide our Bird of Paradise plant? Also, in July we had a locust tree cut to ground level. The trunk is approximately two feet in diameter. Shoots still are coming up around our yard although we have tried tree trunk chemicals by boring holes in the trunk. What would you recommend? Mrs. E.D.L.

A. — Divide the Bird of Paradise between mid-March and early May. Before I suggest another formula for killing out the tree stump, I'll rekap what you should do with the chemical tree-trunk treatment you started. It takes about a year for the chemical to kill the tree, not five months time. Diligently and carefully follow through on the recommended treatments of that chemical. Now, here's Willard Hagen's (horticulturist and one of the leading tree authorities in Southern California) recommendation for stump removal... drill inch bore holes 10 to 12 inches deep into the tree trunk. Fill holes with salt peter obtainable at drug store, or cyanamid, and fill holes

PRESENTS TO HAITI THIS CHRISTMAS

Kids Learn Something About Giving, Receiving

Yes, it is "more blessed to give than to receive."

Ask a student at the Bethany Baptist School of Long Beach. This year, after hearing of the needs of many of their fellow children and grownups in Haiti from a missionary, they decided not to exchange Christmas presents as they have done for many years.

Instead the youngsters gathered simple gifts to send to Haiti. They brought in such items as soap, cake and soup mixes, canned meat, puddings, pencils, notebooks, erasers and towels. Principal Fred Miyauchi estimated it would take four or five barrels to ship the presents to Haiti.

The items will go to Rev. and Mrs. Eldon Ausherman, members of Bethany Baptist Church, and missionaries to Haiti for the past 15 years, for distribution where most needed.

Junior High teacher Mrs. Marianne Poyzer summed up the reaction of the teachers: "It is thrilling to see children and young people who have so much of this world's goods give to others with no expectation of receiving anything in return."

Of course, the children did receive something in return—the joy of giving.

"IT WAS DIFFERENT and I liked it!" enthused fourth grader Lynne Oliver, 9, of Bethany Baptist School, speaking of decision of students to forego custom of exchanging Christmas presents and instead send gifts to people of Haiti. Garrett and Greg Miyauchi, 10 and 8, agree.

Hits British Catholics on Bitter Fights

LONDON, ENGLAND—John Cardinal Heenan, head of the local hierarchy, chided Britain's Roman Catholics this week for quarreling among themselves.

"It is quite shocking to see the animosity with which Catholics speak and write of each other when they have differences of opinion," he said in his Christmas message.

"Some want no Latin, others want nothing but Latin. Some treasure the old form of the Mass and want nothing new, while others seek only novelty and would gladly bury the liturgical and musical treasures of the past.

"If those with differences of opinion cannot yet bring themselves to love each other, let them this Christmas at least resolve to keep a civil tongue."

More than 1200 class enrollment are expected for the Jan. 5 second trimester of the Melodyland School of the Bible, said Dr. Irvine Harrison, president. "The primary purpose of the MSB is to make available to average Christian laymen a systematic two-year basic Bible study which seeks to promote knowledge of the Scriptures and to increase one's ability to continue these studies individually," he said.

BRIEFLY . . .*Reactions on Discounts, Billy's Yarn, Book List

By LES RODNEY

Several readers have reacted to last Saturday's article on discounts for ministers being questioned.

Rev. Edwin E. Cashman, pastor of Bellflower Brethren Church, writes: "I read with interest your article concerning discounts for ministers. Just one comment which expresses a point of view not indicated in the article."

"I find in my contacts with the professional world, including medical doctors, school officials as well as wholesale and retail businessmen, that hardly any of them pay full price for any major purchases. They seem to have 'connections' for just about everything from automobiles and television sets right on down to refund purchases from fellow members of service clubs, etc. And from the connections to which I have been introduced, the discount is usually considerably above the 10 per cent which is offered to clergymen in some stores."

"Perhaps the discount to ministers is somewhat of a recognition on the part of owners and operators of businesses that it's about time they put the clergy on the same level with other professions when it comes to conserving their

SPEAKING TO the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. last month, Billy Graham told this little anecdote:

"A few weeks ago it was my privilege to see Mrs. Golda Meier during her trip to the United States. While I was waiting to be taken to her room, one of her aides told me that a man in New York had said to her: 'Madame Prime Minister, why don't you Jews and Arabs sit down and settle your problems like Christians?' and the aide replied, 'Like in Northern Ireland?'"

"UNDERSTANDING precedes fellowship," a black minister told delegates to the U.S. Congress on Evangelism. One cannot begin to understand others, he added, until he begins to feel with them, to gain insight into their lives, and to respect them.

Eleven evangelists, black and white, who are well acquainted with the racial situation and current literature, were asked after the Congress in suggest the most useful books for whites to read. The results are published in the conservative evangelical magazine Christianity Today, in a story by Lois M. Ottaway, who heads the news service at Wheaton College.

A note by the magazine editor, Harold Lindsell, tells readers that "Some of the books she mentions convey viewpoints unacceptable to us and to our readers. Others will be read with pleasure and appreciation. But we need to read all of these to grasp what men with black skins are thinking . . . it will help us in our task of reconciling race to race and bringing the saving Gospel of Christ to black as well as white communities."

FILM INFORMATION, a newsletter providing up-to-date listings and evaluations of current motion pictures, will be published monthly starting January by the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches.

The commission's chairman, Rev. William Fore, explains the decision was made "because of the growing importance of motion pictures as an art form and as an influence on society, especially as a formative force in the lives of the young. We believe the publication will be a useful tool in our efforts to strengthen the film education movement."

Part of BFC's program the past three years has been presentation of awards in joint ceremonies with the National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures.

Reviews of the new publication will be written, it is said, from a Christian perspective by church leaders, teachers, and critics actively involved in the film medium. Over 200,000 sample copies are being distributed through church channels. Reviewed in the sample copy are the Bible, once in the Book of Isaiah and once in a Song of Solomon which opens with "I am a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys."

Subscriptions will be $4 a year.

Forget the Past, Make Fresh Start

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Well, here we are facing up to another new year, actually a new decade. And, of course, a whole new set of predictions emerge about what 1970 will bring forth. I'm always amused by the number of people who ask me each year what my predictions are going to be, as though I might know something they didn't know. Well, I can assure you, I have no direct line with the Almighty. But I do have some very definite thoughts on the year ahead.

I remember a New Year's Day many years ago when I was just a young boy. I found my father in his study and solemnly asked him what he thought 1911 was going to be like. My father always shot from the hip. He turned and leveled a finger at me and then he said, "Norman, I'll tell you this. It will be exactly what you and I and God do with it. And that goes for every year as long as you live."

WHEN I see folks today pouring over horoscopes and consulting astrological charts I'm reminded of Plato's advice which was to take charge of your life, for you can do with it what you will. I'm not against a glance at your daily horoscope or a little New Year's predicting as such. These things are good fun. And I'm all for that.

Just remember, however, fun is fun. When it comes to getting things done or to getting on top of problems, there is God and there is you. You're not going to "met a handsome stranger" or "have a great business success" or "take a long vacation" unless you pull yourself together, trust God for help, and get busy.

I know you can take a look at 1969 and say, "What happened? There were riots, hungry and poverty. There was war. What about my 'pulling yourself together' philosophy?"

Well, that's all true. Any year has its weaknesses and its evils. But let's look

Mistaken Piety to Forget Jesus Was Human

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

What was he really like, this Jesus of Nazareth whose birth the world is celebrating during the 12 days of Christmastide?

Although His name is familiar to nearly everyone—so familiar it has become a casual expletive—the man himself remains, for many, a shadowy figure. Even those who worship Him as Lord and Savior are in perpetual danger of forgetting that Jesus—whatever else He may have been—was fully and authentically human.

From the earliest days of the church until now, there has been a tendency among pious folk to feel

A "Watch Night Service" will be held at Calvary Baptist Church, 5722 Lime Ave. Wednesday from 9 p.m. to midnight, with games, refreshments, showing of the Moody Science film "City of the Bees," and, says the pastor, Rev. LeRoy Arroues, "the praying in of the New Year."

The New Testament gospels, which are our main source of information about Jesus, are not full-length biographies. They are more like magazine profiles. They give us a vivid picture of Jesus, largely through a succession of anecdotes, but they

READER HITS 'GOD AS TRAIL BOSS'

Dear Religion Editor:

The clergy has done it again!

Every once in a while they come forth with some mockery of the Creator and His Son. This time in an article in your paper of Dec. 20, under the headline "God the 'Trail Boss,' Jesus the 'Scout' as Church Covered Wagon Bounces Along Into the Future," by a Rev. Seeliger of Texas.

How can anyone in their right mind bring God, His son Jesus and God's Holy Spirit down to the level of a cartoon? How can they have the effrontery to depict Him in a caricaturization, since the Bible says at John 1:18 "No man has seen God at any time?"

God is the Most High over all the earth, the Supreme Ruler of the universe and NEVER under any circumstances can be lowered to the level of a cartoon. That is classifying them in the same category as the comic books and comic strips. Even Rev. Seeliger is having this booklet circulated in cartoon form for the price of fifteen cents.

As the Most High over all the earth God deserves the highest praise and glory to magnify His holy name. He should be worshipped at all times in a SACRED way befitting His great sovereignty.

Many denominations and, yes, Billy Graham's organization also, are clamoring for, and in favor of the cartoon booklet of Rev. Seeliger. All I can say is — they will not "bounce along" much longer as "God is not one to be mocked" Galatians 6:7.

A Reader

(ED NOTE: Reference of the reader is to an article by AP Religion Writer George W. Cornell about a booklet by Rev. Wesley Seeliger, a chaplain at Texas A&M University, which puts the Christian faith in the imagery of Western pioneer cow country lore.)

do not contain a great amount of connected narrative. And they omit many details which a modern biographer would include as a matter of course.

For example, none of the gospels gives a physical description of Jesus. The thousands of "portraits" of Jesus which have been painted through the centuries are based entirely on inference and artistic imagination.

It can be inferred, with confidence, that Jesus was a tall man—because gospels reveal He was easily spotted in crowds. It also is virtually certain that He wore long hair and a beard, as nearly all male Jews did in His day.

We know much more about His personality than we do about His appearance. The gospels make clear that He was capable both of great toughness and great tenderness. He was courageous in His confrontations with the rich and the mighty, compassionate in His dealings with the poor and the weak. No matter how weary or harassed He was, He never retired into a shell of self-concern. He always cared.

Although His sensitivity to the needs of others made Him share the misery of every suffering person He encountered, He was not essentially a sad person. On the contrary, He radiated a contagious happiness—a sense of the sheer joy of living.

Some people have gotten the notion—perhaps from our Puritan forebears—that Jesus was a dour ascetic who disdained such normal human pleasures as social activities. But the gospels report just the opposite. Jesus loved a good party—and was a much sought-after dinner guest. His appreciation of good food and good wine was so evident that the strait-laced pharisees scornfully referred to Him as "a glutton and winebibber."

But pleasure was never a major preoccupation of Jesus' life. He was too deeply concerned about the welfare of others to give much thought to His own comfort. In the phrase which the modern police blotter reserves for vagrants, He had "no fixed address" and no regular income. He accepted such hospitality as was offered Him during His itinerant ministry, and was perfectly willing, when necessary, to go without supper and sleep in the open fields.

Perhaps the worst insult which people unintentionally direct at Jesus is to think of Him as "meek and mild." Actually, He was just the opposite. He was a bold and outspoken man who rebelled against convention and trampled heavily on the tenderest corollars of the establishment.

If you define "radical" with Webster's Dictionary as "one who favors fundamental or extreme change," then Jesus was the greatest radical of all time. Other revolutionaries have sought only to shake up political and economic systems. Jesus turned upside down the whole value system by which the world lives.

He said it is better to give than to receive, better to offer to love than to be loved, better to suffer wrongs than to seek revenge, better to be poor and humble than to be rich and proud, better to die trusting in the ultimate vindication of God's righteousness than to live with a craven compromise.

Jesus can be worshipped, loved, admired, rejected or hated. But He cannot easily be ignored. After 20 centuries, His radically unselfish life style remains a challenge to which each of us sooner or later must respond in some way.

Because it reminds us of that challenge, Christmas can never become entirely pagan, however hard our culture works to make it so.

CHILLING BATTLE FOR SURVIVAL TODAY

Rams, Vikings Ready, Weather or Not

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — Some people maintain that there is an easier way to make a living than playing professional football.

Most football fanatics are convinced that coach George Allen and the Rams are going to be wondering about that late today.

The Rams challenge Minnesota at 11:05 a.m. (PST) today in snow-decorated Metropolitan Stadium. Temperatures may shoot all the way to 20 degrees at game time. And that snow in your picture may be the real thing.

The betting boys from Las Vegas have installed the Vikings as six-point favorites to advance to the NFL finals. A sellout crowd 47,900 wants to be in on the kill.

The "electric blanket" which has covered the stadium floor is expected to allow for fairly normal movement, providing there isn't a repetition of the early week's storm which left snow drifts.

The Vikings are the highest scoring (379) and least scored upon (133) team in the NFL. The Vikings snowballed their way through seven home games, scoring 239 points to their opponents' 55.

and others of the defensive unit, who limited 14 opponents to 16 touchdowns, are total destructionists. The Vikings outscored their opponents 846 in the first quarter.

The Rams yielded 243 points while scoring 320.

Minnesota coach Bud Grant calls the game "a tossup." Allen says the Vikings have the advantage

"because of the home field."

The rival coaches were put on the hot seat Friday at a special news conference.

Despite losing their last three games, Allen said, "I'm pleased with the attitude of our players this week. They've worked hard."

Asked if he feels serving hot bullion and heated Gatorade to players will be the answer to the cold, Allen shot back: "Blocking and tackling are more important than warm Gatorade."

Although the Rams lost 20-13 to the Vikings at the Coliseum, snapping their 11-game streak and starting them on a three-game toboggan slide, the Rams feel certain that things will be different today with playoff money at stake.

Are you up tight about tomorrow's game? "I don't think I'd be human if I wasn't. I'll guarantee you the players will be ready to play at 10 a.m."

"Everyone talks about the weather, but Allen did something about it," Dea-

49ers Lash Loyola, Face Pacific in Finals Tonight

By JIM McCORMACK
Staff Writer

Pre-tournament favorites University of Pacific and host Cal State Long Beach advanced to the finals of the first International City Classic with victories Friday night before a capacity crowd of 2,355 in the 49ers' campus gym.

The once-beaten Tigers held off Cal State L.A., 84-79, in the first game and the 49ers pulled away late in the contest to down Loyola, 81-65.

The 49ers and Tigers meet for the tournament title tonight at 9, after Cal State L.A. and Loyola duel for consolation honors at 7. Long Beach radio station KNAC-FM (105.5) will broadcast the title game.

Sophomore center John Gianelli, 6-foot-9, and guard Pat Douglass (6-0) were the long and short of Pacific's victory over L.A.

The Diablos, who lost only their second contest in six this season, shot out to an 11-point edge midway through the first half but the deliberate Tigers narrowed it to four at intermission and worked diligently through the first nine minutes of the final session to overtake the Diablos.

Gianelli dropped in four points within a minute after the second half opened to give Pacific a 41-41 tie, but Cal State L.A. regained the lead and although tied once more (45-45) held it until Pacific ran off nine consecutive points midway in the period.

Loyola, loser of its fourth game in six, battled the 49ers toe-to-toe throughout the first 25 minutes and was down only 46-45 when the 49ers began to pull away with 15:55 remaining.

Then Long Beach out-scored the Lions 11-4. Seven of Cal State's points came on free throws, five by sophomore guard Dwight Taylor, and two by Ray Gritton. Loyola momentarily stalled Long Beach's blitz with a free throw by Bill Delaney and a 12-foot shot by Jim Hadler, but the 49ers went on another spree, 10-2, and the contest was decided.

The decisive burst was a display of team balance as Sam Robinson, Gritton, Bill Jackson, George Trapp and Shaw Johnson contributed two points.

The 49ers finished with five athletes in double figures, enabling them to overcome a brilliant performance by the 6-8½ Hadler, who finished with 24 points and 21 rebounds, both first-night highs.

S'ANITA STILL SCRATCHED

Pickets, No Ponies

Chances for a quick settlement of the strike by pari-mutuel clerks at Santa Anita appeared dim today as the Arcadia plant remained ringed with pickets.

The flag went up at Santa Anita Friday but the track was left at the gate for the first time in its 35-year history. Entries were again taken for today's program but there was no indication when the two sides might meet at the negotiating table, making it possible to race today — or Tuesday — or next year.

Talks broke off Wednesday and have not been resumed despite the fact Gov. Ronald Reagan, a former owner and thoroughbred breeder, was reported keenly interested in seeing that a prompt settlement is reached.

Members of the AFL-CIO Building Services Union are seeking a $4-a-day wage increase. The track countered with a $2 offer.

The state's loss in tax revenue each day is roughly $300,000 while horsemen are losing between $80-$100,000 in purses with each canceled program.

Moorhead, Michigan Offer Sad Reminder for McKay

By LOEL SCHIRADER
Staff Writer

After observing films of 10 Michigan football games, USC coach John McKay thought he was seeing a re-run of the 1969 Rose Bowl game between the Trojans and Ohio State.

"These guys look so much like Ohio State it's ridiculous," commented McKay.

Further pinpointing the similarities, McKay singled out Michigan quarterback Don Moorhead.

"Moorhead reminds you of Ohio State's Rex Kern in many ways," he said Friday.

"Kern is a shifty runner but so is Moorhead. Both are good passers and ball-handlers.

"I'd say that all things considered, Moorhead is the fellow who got Michigan to the Rose Bowl."

Wolverine coach Bo Schembechler would agree.

"I've been quoted as saying Moorhead is better than Kern and Mike Phipps of Purdue," said Schembechler. "That's not exactly what I said.

"My comment was that

Moorhead was better than either Kern or Phipps on the days we played Ohio State and Purdue. He can do a little of everything.

"Moorhead has speed that can be deceiving. He also throws well and is a quality player all around. I would say his performance this season is the reason we're in Pasadena getting ready for the Rose Bowl."

Moorhead has impressive credentials.

With little playing time in his sophomore season,

The Huskies overtook USC early in the second half as Irvine made 16 of 20 shots from the field and brilliant "saves" on loose balls. The Lakers inched back to within 79-76 after three quarters.

After a slow start, Millikan outscored Poway by 13 points in the second quarter. Dave Frost did most of the damage, scoring 20 of his eventual 27 points before intermission.

West had 12 in the period, but the best was yet to come. In the next five minutes he pumped in 13 points before the Knicks, out of desperation, gamblled and defended him with two men.

For only the 13th time in 35 games, the Lakers won the battle of the boards, 51-41, with Roberson (12) and Counts (11) backing up Hairston's 18.

New York, which had won 13 of 14 on the road, was not as crisp with its passes in the second half, and the Knicks rely heavily on movement and good percentage shots.

Keith Erickson made two baskets down the stretch, both on passes by West. Hairston got a tip-in and Dick Garrett, working well one-on-one, weaved through the tough New York defense for six points.

When it was all over, the Lakers shot 16 for 23 in the fourth quarter, West finished with 14 out of 27 in the game and also had 10 assists, his average over the past six games.

West felt Counts was the key to victory and that all the Lakers played well except himself.

For only the 13th time in 35 games, the Lakers won the battle of the boards, 51-41, with Roberson (12) and Counts (11) backing up Hairston's 18.

Jerry was to score only four points in the final seven minutes, but he hit the open man with his passes, and Hairston matched Reed on the boards.

The win left the Lakers only two percentage points behind third-place Chicago, but they must get past two more teams, Boston and San Francisco Tuesday.

New York, which had won 13 of 14 on the road, was not as crisp with its passes in the second half, and the Knicks rely heavily on movement and good percentage shots.

Walt Frazier carried the team after intermission, finishing with 26 points, while Reed had his worst game against the Lakers, 15 points, as did Dick Barnett.

Confident Kapp's Best Game? 'Yet to Play'

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — In a standard NFL biography form, the question is put to each player: "What was your best day as a player?"

Joe Kapp wrote: "Yet to play."

"The only really big games," the former University of California quarterback explained later, "are those which put you in the title game, and the title match itself."

"If you are going to play this game, you have to win. Not only to survive but to be happy."

"I love to be happy, too."

Kapp, who hails from Newhall, is one of only seven Californians on the Minnesota team which matches wits and muscle against the Rams today in the NFL playoff match at Metropolitan Stadium.

Kapp's West Coast compatriots are tackle Ron Yary (Bellflower), tight end John Beasley (Buena Park), receiver Bobby Grim (Salinas), defensive back Earrell Mackbee (Vallejo), guard Ed White (Palm Desert), defensive tackle Gary Larsen (Whittier) and guard Jim Velone (Buena Park).

When the 31-year-old

Kapp drifted to the Canadian League in 1959, football scouts agreed that the rugged signal caller with the confidence of a street brawler would make an excellent linebacker.

"I'm not good enough to play any other position," Joe retaliates, "so I have to be a quarterback."

Eleven seasons later, the 6-foot-3, 216-pounder still is bulldozing the opposition from his familiar QB position.

He's an excellent all-round athlete, a strong and accurate (though not stylish) passer and a punishing runner with enough agility to have hurdled the Rams' Richie Petitbon on a 17-yard scramble play three weeks ago in the Coliseum.

Even though the Rams had their troubles that day trying to keep up with Kapp, people in the Twin Cities never have problems picking up his trail.

Kapp drives a 1959 LaSalle, a four-door black sedan. Viking officials say he'd sooner part with his family than the "gangster-type" automobile.

Kapp isn't the only hard-nosed player hereabouts. Middle linebacker Lonnie Warwick was discovered by former Viking coach Norm Van Brocklin in a New Mexico railroad section gang.

"I'd still be there if Van Brocklin hadn't located me," the defensive hero of the Vikings, 20-13 victory over the Rams related this week.

Warwick started at Tennessee but transferred to Tennessee Tech where he played guard and linebacker for two years. He was signed as a free agent by the Vikings in 1964.

Tommy Mason, the first player drafted by the Vikings and who now backs up Les Josephson and rookie Larry Smith, said he was disappointed the Rams "didn't push a little harder" and play a better football against Baltimore last week.

"I hope our three losses were due to the fact we clinched the title early. If that's not the case, we're in trouble."

Mason, who has a feel for icy tracks, probably will be inserted into today's action sooner than usual because of his experience in cold weather. He's had an excellent week of practice. Tommy has caught 11 passes for 185 yards and gained 135 yards rushing for a 4.1 average.

Coach George Allen invited eight boys from a nearby detention home to join the Rams players for dinner this week. Two of the boys ran away.

Allen still hasn't forgotten Viking linebacker Wally Hilgenberg from a year ago when he came over and wiped his muddy hands on George's raincoat. Allen was too stunned to reply.

Owens Man on the Spot in East-West Struggle

United Press International

STANFORD — Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens is the man on the spot today in the 45th Shrine East-West football game at Stanford Stadium.

The good-looking running back from Oklahoma, who already has said he plans to pursue a pro career, is the one man some thousands of fans and some 200 pro scouts will be watching with interest as the West seeks to make it two in a row over the East in the game which benefits crippled children and promotes college seniors to the pros.

This year's teams drew an unusually large turnout of pro scouts to the two training camps, even fellows like Al Davis of the Raiders and Sid Gillman of the Chargers, who generally like to keep their moves and interests secret.

Owens was the one they all wanted to see, but by far not the only one. With some 40 to 45 sure fire prospects on the scene there was a lot of activity in both camps this past week. Now, that's all done with and the moment of truth is at hand.

Game officials expect a crowd of around 70,000 for the 90,000-seat stadium, but with the forecast calling for sunny and clear skies and a temperature in the mid 60s, the estimate could go upwards. One thing for sure, it will be the biggest crowd in Shrine history.

Previously the game was played in 56,000 Kezar Stadium and 49,000-seat Candlestick Park. The game was brought to Stanford this year because Candlestick Park has its natural turf torn up with an artificial covering to be laid down later.

Owens and his West teammates, coached by John Ralston of Stanford, Eddie Crowder of Colorado and Frank Kush of Arizona State, are seven point favorites but there are many who think they could win by as many as 21 points.

That's because Ralston and his staff have an abundance of running backs in Owens, Bob Anderson of Colorado, Art Malone of Arizona State and Greg Jones of UCLA, to name a few, plus two of the nation's most explosive quarterbacks in Dennis Shaw of San Diego State and Steve Ramsey of North Texas State.

As good as all those young men are, they have to face a pretty good East defensive squad put together by the staff of Tom Cahill of Army, Earle Edwards of North Carolina and Alex Agase of Northwestern.

Agase's job week long was to shape up a defense to stop all that West power, and he thinks he may have accomplished something.

"The West is impressive to say the least," said Agase. "We know they can run and they can throw. Our hope is to contain them enough so that our offense can do its work."

Parseghian said, "I'm not sure when we will be able to work out because a number of our top players are still snowed in up east."

"We had planned to work out today, but we had to cancel out. Two workouts are scheduled Saturday — if the players get in."

Parseghian said the players missing included quarterback Joe Theismann, who is from New Jersey.

"We've had only two good outdoor workouts since our last game in November with the Air Force," Parseghian said.

"We had very bad weather in South Bend. We tried to cover the field, but it was frozen anyway."

Parseghian said his squad needs conditioning and work on its timing before the Fighting Irish will be ready for their first bowl game in 45 years.

"I sure hope Texas had lots of Christmas turkey," Parseghian said.

Texas resumed work in sunny Austin and will not travel to Dallas until Monday.

Parseghian said his workouts — when he gets to have them — will be closed to the public.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said "our workouts in Dallas will be public."

Royal was informed of Parseghian's problems with the weather and conceded "he's behind" compared to the number of outside workouts Texas has held.

WON'T TURN PRO

Plunkett Staying Put

STANFORD — Stanford quarterback Jim Plunkett, a leading candidate for the Heisman Trophy next year, said Friday he will return to school next fall rather than graduate to play professional football.

Plunkett, who was third among college quarterbacks in total offense and fifth in passing this season, sat out his sophomore year and has another season of eligibility remaining despite the fact his class graduates in June.

However, the last time the Cowboys played in the mud it was all they could do to defeat Pittsburgh, 10-7.

Kelly has been quoted as saying he loves it in the mud and like Chicago's Gale Sayers seems to have his better days when the going is gooey.

Cleveland coach Blanton is considered by many pro scouts as one of the finest passers in football.

In a prepared statement, Plunkett said, "To say that I didn't consider asking Mr. Rozelle (pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle) to place my name in the draft pool, would not be entirely true. There is a great deal of money involved and my family is not exactly what you call wealthy."

But, he added, he feels an obligation to the team, coaches and the young people in the Mexican-American community among whom he has worked.

He also said he wants one more chance at getting Stanford into the Rose Bowl.

The Dallas offense is built around multiple sets and puts a good deal of emphasis on speed. It's no secret the Cowboys like a dry field.

It's true that Dallas is more run-oriented this season with rookie sensation Calvin Hill and up-and-coming fullback Walt Garrison in the lineup. The Cowboys run the ball five out of every eight times they line up.

Moorhead Propels Michigan

the 6-3, 200-pound junior stepped into the key quarterback position and led the Wolverines to total offense with 1,689 yards, 565 on 152 rushing attempts and 1,134 on 89 pass completions in 178 attempts.

He threw five touchdown passes and had only six intercepted.

"Those few interceptions are a mark of this Michigan team," said McKay. "The Wolverines don't beat themselves very often. They fumbled a lot in their loss to Missouri, but otherwise they haven't made many mistakes."

With Moorhead doing the quarterbacking, McKay doesn't expect any breaks on New Year's Day.

ROSE BOWL NOTES: Michigan defensive back Barry Pierson, one of the heroes in the Wolverines' 24-12 victory over Ohio State, has a broken bone in his right arm and probably will not start against the Trojans. Schenbeckler said Friday, Pierson averaged 14.6 yards on punt returns during the regular season. Bruce Elliott, son of former Wolverine star Pete Elliott, probably will open in place of Pierson, said Schenbeckler. ... USC flanker Bob Giersch sustained a shoulder separation in practice and will be sidelined for the Rose Bowl. ... Schenbeckler said the Wolverines have not been hampered by extra activity in preparation with the Rose Bowl. "It's not the way I'd like to prepare for an important football game," he said, "but if it would be unfair for me to deprive our youngsters of the opportunity of seeing the sights of California." ... The Michigan coach said he had planned to use running backs Bill Taylor and Glenn Daugherty in the same backfield until Daugherty sustained a knee injury on Wednesday. "We'll file that one away until next year," he said.

Hog's Workout 'Enthusiastic'

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — The third-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks resumed practice Friday for their Jan. 1 Sugar Bowl meeting with Mississippi, working 90 minutes in sweat clothes.

"We were enthusiastic," said coach Frank Broyles. "That always helps. It was evident we had laid off a week. We had to repeat a lot of things."

Broyles said the Razorbacks would practice in pads today, Sunday and Monday. The team is to leave Tuesday morning for New Orleans.

Arkansas finished the season with a 9-1 record and Mississippi was 7-3 with victories over LSU and Tennessee.

PENN ST. PLOWS ON

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Three buses of Orange Bowl bound Penn State football players crossed the snow-covered mountains of Western Pennsylvania behind a snow plow Friday enroute to Greater Pittsburgh Airport and a flight to the sunny south.

The buses, escorted by a state police car, crept through areas covered by as much as 26 inches of snow after weather conditions forced cancellation of a flight from Olmsted Air Base Airport near Harrisburg, Pa.

Coach Joe Paterno said he hoped to hold a practice session under the lights in Miami, where temperatures reached 71 degrees under sunny skies.

But Paterno expressed concern for some team members who were scheduled to drive to Olmsted themselves. The airport was buried under more than 15 inches of snow.

The Nittany Lions trained in Fort Lauderdale until last Sunday, when the players returned to their homes for the holidays.

LAUREL, LIBERTY BELL PROGRAMS OFF

Eastern Sports Card Buried

Associated Press

A heavy snowfall buried a number of sports programs in the Northeast Friday, forcing cancellation of thoroughbred racing programs and basketball games.

Manager Frank Brady announced the weather conditions had stopped racing at Laurel Race Course at Laurel, Md., but that racing would resume today if possible.

One of the other two tracks currently operating in the Northeast, Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia, also canceled its nine-race program for the second day this week. Tuesday's card was called off after jockeys refused to ride because of bad weather and a hazardous track.

Waterford Park in West Virginia, although struck by a minor power failure, carried on its program.

At Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the Kings Classic Basketball Tournament at Kings College was canceled. The tournament scheduled for today and Sunday, was to have included Kings, Lafayette, American University and Fairleigh-Dickinson.

One American Hockey League game at Baltimore had to be postponed because of travel difficulties encountered by the Rochester team.

Frazier, Ellis on Feb. 16?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Madison Square Garden has completed arrangements for a Feb. 16 heavyweight championship bout between Joe Frazier and Jimmy Ellis, it appeared virtually certain Friday.

The Garden, which has been trying to match Frazier and Ellis for the title for almost a year, invited newsmen to a Monday press conference, at which details of the 15-round fight are expected to be announced.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for the New York arena, said earlier in the week he was confident the match would be closed with the resolution of "a few hitches concerning the ancillary, the television setup."

Frazier, the Philadelphia puncher recognized as champion in seven states, including New York, and Ellis, of Louisville, Ky., the World Boxing Assn. titleholder, reportedly have been guaranteed $150,000 apiece against 30 per cent of the gate plus closed circuit television revenue.

The percentage take is expected to exceed the $150,000 figures, and a plan for deferred payments to the fighters apparently has locked up agreement by all parties. The fight will be televised throughout North America and, via satellite, to many parts of the world.

Stripped of the title two years ago for refusing military induction, Cassius Clay was close to a match with Frazier, which would have earned him $300,000. Plans for the world-wide television bout fell through recently.

After several promoters, eager from a Clay-Frazier confrontation, failed to obtain permission to stage it in several Florida cities or in Houston, Madison Square Garden resumed negotiations for the Frazier-Ellis meeting.

This time the Garden found Ellis, idle for 15 months, more eager for the fight.

Lakewood AC Holds Meet

The Lakewood Aquatic Club will hold an admission-free intra-squad swim meet today at the Mayfair Swimming pool, 3:30 p.m.

The event will be a meeting of the club champions, and age-group swimmers, competing as a preliminary to regular AAU competition.

Expected to take part are world backstroke champion Susie Atwood, U.S. record holder in the breaststroke, Kimla Brecht, and nationally ranked swimmers Ann Simmons, Bonnie Adair, Linda Kiddie, Susan Dougherty and Pamela Lines.

Other features on the card are the $20,000 Miami Beach Handicap at Tropical Park and the $10,000 Sugar Bowl Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

High-Scoring UCLA Favored in Own Classic

By GARY RAUSCH
Staff Writer

When UCLA approached Princeton, Indiana and Georgia Tech to appear in the first Bruin Classic, it was a foregone conclusion John Wooden's five-time NCAA champions would appear in the title game.

But who would face the nation's No. 2 rated basketball team in the finale? Unfortunately for Georgia Tech, the Yellowjackets drew the Bruins in tonight's 9 o'clock feature in Pauley Pavilion.

The other first-round contest pits high-scoring Indiana against defensive-minded Princeton at 7. Winners and losers are paired in championship and consolation games Monday.

Three of Indiana's defeats came from top-ranked Kentucky, fifth-ranked Ohio U. and No. 11 Notre Dame. Princeton's two losses were to Penn (17th) and Villanova (20th).

The Tigers lost 6-9 Chris Thorndike from their 19-7 and unbeaten, record-setting Ivy League championship club of 1968-69 and suffered a serious blow when All-Ivy Jeff Petrie spent the first four games this year in traction with a ruptured spine.

However, the 6-3 forward-guard returned with a 20-point effort in his first effort last week. The Tigers ranked 9th nationally in defense last season (162.2) and are faster this term but also shorter.

Princeton will need solid scoring from Petrie, 11-11, the 6-foot, 9½, 205-pounder set four school records as a sophomore, including a 24.1-point scoring average. Yunkus is one of seven Tech players over 6-7 but conversely the club lacks speed—a deciding factor against the Bruins.

Few teams in the country boast the quickness and firepower UCLA starts in Sidney Wicks (19.0), John Valley (18.2), Henry Bibby (15.4), Curtis Rowe (12.6) and Steve Patterson (10.8).

Bruin substitutes present further problems. Wooden's bench contributed 41 points—21 above its norm—in the 133-84 rout of LSU, shooting the team scoring

Toledo TD Explosion Rips Davidson, 56-33

ORLANDO, Fla. — Dazzling sophomore Chuck Ealey streaked 52 yards to score after only 57 seconds in Friday night's Tangerine Bowl and followed with three touchdown passes to lead undefeated Toledo to a 56-33 victory over Davidson.

Ealey's first half magic led to a 42-7 cushion and it was only a second half flurry that kept Davidson from suffering a more severe rout.

Toledo, winner of the Mid-American Conference, climaxed an 11-1 season to become the first undefeated Rocket team in 53 years of football.

Davidson earned the Tangerine bid by rolling up a 7-1 record, but then lost its final two regular season games, including an embarrassing 63-8 game to Vanderbilt.

Gordon Slade's passing was Davidson's hope and the senior from Evansville, Ind., marched the Wildcats to get the 7-7 tie before a record crowd of 16,311.

Toledo went 95 yards in 12 plays to jump ahead for keeps. Ealey hit Don Fair with a 46-yard pass to set up the score and Charles Cole plunged one-yard for the first of his three touchdowns.

YOUR HOROSCOPE
by JEANE DIXON

Forecast For Sunday

Your birthday index: This year ahead brings many changes and escalations of details on the home front — with the move with groups having special missions superseding your personal plans. Your personal finance is probably very responsible now so that you are swept along by your enthusiasm. Romantic interests are steadily alive but you will remain steadily in the whirlwind going on.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): The present situation is forcing you to make your finest effort and make a sincere showing in the community expression of its responsibilities.

TAURUS (April 20-May 18): Now is the long awaited opportunity to have fun in hobbies and crafts. Find some way beyond declarations, of expressing your feelings toward your joys or woes.

GEMINI (May 19-June 17): Work should be limited to the chores needed for long interludes or perhaps a check on your household budget and like accounts.

CANCER (June 18-July 22): Get out and get to know your neighbors and aged. Keep and welcome your cheerful visits. Keep moving until you've had a full set opinions from everybody.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 21): There should be very little serious work on Sunday. You may be able to keep occupied with writing and finding connections for older people or parents needing special services.

VIRGO (Aug. 22-Sept. 29): This should be a leisurely sort of Sunday — full of simple enjoyment, light entertainment, good conversation. Hobbies may pleasantly claim some of the afternoon.

LIBRA (Sept. 20-Oct. 18): Seek out entertainments you have not been to lately and have a good visit. Avoid crowds and keep on the move for a day of local adventure. Give thought to your health capabilities.

SCORPIUS (Oct. 19-Nov. 17): Short social activities offer much enjoyment. You may be able to do some work in your hobbies and crafts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 18-Dec. 21): Your thoughts may drift toward coming business activities. You do it! He becomes more popular and has many new friends who are available to listen. Don't overdo it; others are available.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Find some reasons for things being as they are. Confront the customs of your self-improvement and find ways to further self-improvement which does not distract from your responsibilities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 14): At first you shouldn't be looking for it, you may turn a bill of cash today including your rounds of social activities. You can be a good helper for old people with a little effort.

PISCES (Feb. 15-March 20): Join with friends to help them to make this a Sunday to remember. Late in the day, there may be time to begin your year's budget plans and to answer correspondence.
